

From almost the beginning: How to argue without arguments.

Just answer the question(s): Rob's premise is that Zelenskii provoked Putin. Where's the proof that the married with children, whose grandfather lost brothers fighting Nazis, is a faggot and Nazi Jew who steals oil from Russia and fires rockets into Russian territories (some territories of which may be in Ukraine)? He's more corrupt compared to who? Putin? Orbán? He's the one causing instability? Really? The stealing of oil accusations go back decades, but Zelenskii has only been president since 2019. STAY FOCUSED! WE AREN'T TALKING ABOUT THE ROMAN EMPIRE IN THIS CONVERSATION—you can try, but I'll try to re-focus your energy. Your arguments don't hold water and wouldn't stand up in the slightest level of scrutiny!

If your family and home are on fire, do you 1. Sell them to the arsonists, 2. Ask for help from professionals who can put out the fire and attack more efficiently, 3. Put out the fire yourself, 4. Let it burn itself out and leave it to scavengers?

Hi Chris!

Thanks for your email. I have problems with modern thinking about global things. There are a lot of things that we (Who's 'we'?) cannot support with documents. So if somebody gives me a lot of pdfs and I send a lot of pdfs as well, then who is the winner of the conversation? Who is the referee in the case of which document is real or not real? You can tell me that my "facts" are not facts and I can tell you that your "facts" are not facts. Who is to tell the real facts to us? (We_Who's 'we'?? are a time when we can't believe in the news, with information being spread to us from all sides. The only people who are able to make such a decisions are us and in our souls—we are the only real "newsreaders." That is why it is dangerous to only lean on the news when we make decisions about history nowadays.

There are a lot of aspects to global cases (just like this war). We cannot (Who's we??) handle the overflowing data with our (Who's 'our'??) minds. ??There are goals at different stages (just like: national politicians, global politicians, factories, economical sectors, news and public media companies, people, energy companies, ideologies)?? WTF?? so we cannot make decisions like data processing machines because we are humans who aren't flawless. We can see movements in the eyes of a politician when he/she speaks to us and we can see the mimicked reactions, we hear the personal stories, we see short films on the net narrated with sounds with different meaning, we see that there is a big problem with reliability on both sides. We call it: impressions that are being laid onto our poor souls.

We see that politicians and military analysts telling us stories that fail in the next days (For example?? And make your example relevant to the original story [Ukrain-Russian war, which is actually a world war??]), ~~Funny~~ (What part of this story is funny? Using this language in such circumstances make you seem feigned). And they force us to stand with "Ukraine" (or Covid-19, or NATO, or with the USA) but if we are not on their side, then they put a stamp on our mind that we are Nazis, stupid people, we are not familiar in the case that they want to push down in our throats. This IS a problem. (You're the one who came up with the insinuations that and direct accusations that the Ukrainian president is a queer, is a coward, his country isn't a country and Putin was provoked—all of these things you've stated directly in writing or in our conversation ... and you really didn't insinuate any of that, you've stated it outright.

If somebody wants to inform me about something, it's OK. But if somebody gives me information and this somebody forces me to agree with it, it is a mental DICTATORSHIP. You're the one doing the mental dictatorship gymnastics. I'm just calling you out on your fake news—and you have yet to prove your point.

I want my mental freedom—you can have it, but I'm not going to let you come here into my office and force myself to listen to your cold-hearted spiel of how it's Zelenskii's fault that his people are being systematically committing genocide—sorry!! It is my right as a human—it's your right and you have the right to be as stupid as you'd like. So, -to anybody- if there is such a difficult story as the Ukrainian war or covid, please don't force me to step on a side, because my impressions are more right than some tons of documents that might be fake news - that I or ANYBODY can NOT control. There are facts that are available—not my facts, just facts. It was you who came here to tell me your truth, but I shut you down to show you the truth, which you have refused to look at. I have over 155 links on this subject—I could provide tons more, but you won't even look at the basics. Let's show pictures of your slaughtered family and let's call it fake, when it is, IN FACT, not.

From me.

I'm just surprised that you would think that it would be OK for me to attack you, burn down your town and your house, molest your children, kidnap them, rape your wife and break your knees and leave you bleeding in a field to die because I devalue your life and declare that your family and your country and your livelihood are all illegitimate. Help me understand how you could imagine this to be OK for you. You may say that Hungary belongs to the EU, but I say, as Orbán does, that you belong back into the arms of the Soviet Union. This is what I'm trying to wrap my head around.

From Rob

Hi,

I'm just surprised that it is ok for You, If a weak nation fucks up a big and armed country by stealing gas from pipelines to European Countries, making US biotech labs against Russians, killing Russians, Hungarians and others in Ukraine.

I'm surprised that USA is very very very happy with the war between EU and Russia, because it makes both weak.

I'm surprised that there is an EU leadership who doesn't (!!!!!!!) care about Eastern European EU member States that cannot (!!!!!) pay 200.000 HUF /month for gas price. They (Von Der Leyen, Merkel, Macron, Draghi) are stupid as shit or paid by other regimes (Try using a spell checker. ☺).

I'm surprised that there is not an EU country leader (Zelenszkii) who fucks up the Russians and after it he sacrifices his people in a war that HE (!!!!) could have stopped before it began (??WTF?? Explain yourself with concrete details. Pretend that you are writing an article for denture implants – explain yourself and the process??). Instead of war he did not ask me, but FORCES (!!!!!) me as a Hungarian person to force my NATO member leaders to START WW3! He brings foreign private soldiers paid by USA governmental money to fight against Russians. (??WTF?? – All that is necessary for evil to prosper is for good men to do nothing. Sure, the Ukraine forced Putin, Moldova forced Putin. Georgia (Gruzia) forced Putin. Poland forced Putin. Sweden is just paranoid. Post-Soviet conflicts: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Post-Soviet_conflicts

Then there's the Budapest Memorandum that protects the Ukraine when it gives up its nuclear arsenal, which included signatories: Russia, USA, England and others. Russia promised to go to the international committee to resolve conflicts and US and England and others promised to protect Ukraine as a good will. WHO CARES ABOUT THAT DOCUMENT. And your thing about the rejection of the Russian Covid "vaccination" is a reason for the provocation for Russian invasion is bizarre beyond belief. I can't argue well against such an ignorant ruse. Most everything Russia builds is shit, but all of the vaccinations fall into that "shit" category, so maybe Russia's was of a smellier kind.?, Just saying. You said that that was a prelude for making Putin angry.)

I'm just surprised that the NATO and other countries (about 23 Countries!!! armies) are fighting a bloody war through (!) a foreign country against the Russians, while ~~they are shouting~~ / they shout that the Russians are coming to rule the world??? It's in the Soviet doctrine. You haven't watched one damn video I sent you. The information is in there – IN PUTIN'S OWN WORDS, and in the logical reasoning behind the statements. You diss the USA and prop up Putin? SHAME ON YOU!!)

I'm sorry that I'm not on any side, and I'm sorry that I cannot pay 2000.000 huf/month for gas (It's gonna get worse if you don't support peace, which means to force Putin back into his dog cage called the USSR.), I'm sorry that I understand economical relations (Do you?? How's that, Mr. Economics??) instead of "wise and practiced" EU leaders who fuck their people in EU (That's a very big topic. Mostly, I don't support EU economics.) but, STAY FOCUSED!!??).

I'm sorry if I don't stand with..... (Please place a name at any point whenever there is a new case.)

Formatted: Strikethrough

I'm sorry if I see that the sanctions make Russia stronger (You see that because you still haven't watched one single video – you can slow them down, you know, to 75% or even 50%, and I see that this war is about to sell weapons again and again that make USA stronger (THAT'S THE MOST FAKE NEWS I HEARD OF FROM YOU YET. Tell me, Mr. Economics, just how does giving your weapons to a country who can't pay you back help your country and make it stronger, dimwit!! Just tell me. CONCRETE EXAMPLES! WE NEED CONCRETE EXAMPLES!!). I'm sorry that I see that Biden can't do the process -that Trump began -to push down the unemployment rate by national companies (This is a false narrative. A little bit of truth, and a whole lot of bullshit.). I'm sorry that I see that USA did not win any war in the last 20 years (..and so??), that's why he must make another war in other FOREIGN countries again and again and again (Sure, the USA caused this!! Are you evil or stupid??!! This is a long and hard topic that requires real historians to decipher. I follow real historians. That's why I send you links to what they have to say and how they analyze stuff, and you do not, which is why you follow the Soviet and Hungarian propaganda, and by definition, propaganda is without substance and facts and reality) .

But let us see the end of this. As we know (from the end of February) that Ukraine wins the war day by day (funny) -as newspapers say day by day (Most analysts I've studied come to the same conclusion that I do; we don't know what the outcome will be, but "Russia must lose".).

With friendly love:

Robi

Wow, you have a lot of accusations with no or next to no substantiated evidence of any of them. "...a weak nation fucks up a big and armed country by stealing gas from pipelines..." Really, that's your argument?? Why should I even continue to argue your absurdities when you still haven't reviewed anything I've shared with you? You say "... if somebody gives me a lot of pdf and I send a lot of pdf as well, than who is the winner of the conversation?" Well, that's easy. The one who substantiates the messages with indisputable facts, like about about to do. The news is easy to decipher if you have the keys, the keys being the ability and willingness to use logical reasoning, deductive and methodical reasoning. It is true that $1 + 1$ usually (but not always) = 2. These arguments use simple, very basic levels of reasoning, so here it goes. I'll go down the list with clear, concrete values, which you have yet to do. Why do I have to prove your side for you, but unfortunately, for you, when I attempt to do it, it will prove that you're wrong, so, so wrong. There's a book called "Putin's Kleptocracy" and there should be a book about Orbán's wealth, which is probably around 2.5 trillion forints, according to my calculations. President Zelenskii assumed his office 20 May 2019, That's 3 years. The Russian-Ukraine gas disputes were in 2004, 2005, and 2006. The conflict began when Russia claimed that Ukraine was not paying for gas and was diverting gas bound from Russia to the European Union from pipelines that crossed the country. Ukrainian officials at first denied the last accusation, but later Naftogaz admitted it used some gas intended for other European countries for domestic needs. HELLO??!! Anybody home?? This was before Zelenskii. So there hasn't been Zelenski to be nearly as corrupt as Putin nor Orbán. If Russia wants to bypass the Ukraine, they can do it and are doing it. Russia's new pipeline bypasses Ukraine in pumping gas to Europe, Kyiv says

From me:

You're either pulling my leg or are callously and cynically naïve and incompetent in having opinions and conversations about the "Special Operations in Ukraine." I've re-read more than once what you've been writing to me and it surprises me as to how you can maintain your business with the logic you pretend to be using, that you've studied in school and wrote an ounce about what you do and your thoughts, and I'm surprised that you have ever read a book. Nevertheless, I feel obligated to once again explain to you something imperative for you to know, with enough irrefutable evidence that your incongruence will not be made kosher, but rather recognized as rubbish. Your rhetorical indignation for validations using empirical evidence are anti-scientific, demonstratively revealing as to your character, and is precisely what I'm teaching—especially my young students—not to do.

Good sense and rational judgments are all that are needed to avoid the pitfalls which you seem so desperate to descend into. "Who would win such an argument if I would send you lots of pdfs and files and you would send me lots of pdfs and files?," you asked. That winner would be I because, even in first principle, you wouldn't do it because you can't do it because you don't have enough support or information to do it. For months I talked about the Covid lies that defy any good sense of reasoning (and it's all there for you to show me what's false) and finally I receive a scant something or other without references, citations, or even an author's signature to such a thing from a student—it was a pathetic show of defiance—it's all there for the world to see on my website—open your eyes! Like what you purport, logic is without reason and without evidence.

I wanted to go down the list of your artwork you might want to be calling a clear and concise judgment of your position on the Ukrainian-Russian subject, but you go into tangents that would take me hours upon hours to address—this is, in fact, a communist tactic—to distract and obfuscate without any clear and concrete vision or any clear and concrete understanding of the facts because reason and logic and history are all on my side and you have to remove all of those subjects without recourse, so the only tactic you can use is to argue without arguments. Even if you declare your position from the highest mountain top with the loudest loudspeakers blaring for all the world to hear, you still wouldn't be right. So, from here on in, I'm going to break down what I can and leave the rest to the pile of heap I call garbage, but which you may very well call a beautiful landscape designed for deep thinkers. (Your arguments have very little to do with a language barrier—though you could write in Hungarian—but rather a mental barrier.)

Let's just start with a couple of links you sent me the moment you showed me. First you showed me the "Freedom Gay Fetish Dance - with President Zelensky." I'm not sure what the relevance of it is, but he has a seemingly stable marriage with a woman and has two children. You then showed a picture of army guys in a school gym. Who cares—the whole country is being destroyed—including the fuckin' Nazis and Hungarians and Ukrainians and Russians and children and old women. It's clear that the Ukrainian army isn't bunkering down in residential areas smoking cigarettes, having orgies, and using their own to subdue the enemy. So, your introduction into this topic was distressingly and appallingly woeful.

"Who is the referee in the case of which document is real or not real?" The one who is more scientific—using empirical evidence and truths. Everything here in this document I'm talking about I can prove or provide significant evidence that would stop one to pause and ponder and pretty much everything you're talking about you cannot. Your preconceived notions can be made with only a very thin argument. Perhaps you're hoping that the Russians win over the ruins they've created (not the US, not Nato, not Europe, and certainly not Zelenskii). Zelenskii's political party is called Servants of the People, named after a show he starred in. It's a commendable wish for a campaign promotion.

The Ukraine, Hungary, Russia, and most countries in these parts have been fraught with thievery; however, it is well-known that Putin's career was developed through a kleptocracy. For example, the siphoning off of Russian oil happened 13 + years ago—more than once. Has it ever been proven in court? Anyway, the solution for Russia is simple and what they've been working on doing—to skirt any complications is to go around the Ukraine—solution made feasible and plausible!—case solved. However, they stole the Crimea, which is rich in oil and other resources. The Ukrainian Energy Ministry reports that "Ukraine has lost 80% of oil and gas deposits in the Black Sea and a significant part of the port infrastructure due to the annexation of Crimea." And to make your argument even more absurd is that "The Soviet government transferred Crimea from the Russian Soviet Federation of Socialist Republics (RSFSR) to the Ukrainian Soviet Socialist Republic (UkrSSR) in 1954!!" If I say otherwise, I could be labeled as a fool or wrong or misguided. There is plenty of empirical evidence on the matter. It may not always be cut and dry, but a person would be hard pressed to argue against the mountains of evidence. Even I can find evidence to these facts and if I need to, I can ask others, perhaps even experts about their opinions. It's easier than rocket science. Likewise, you're full of shit about the Ukraine not being a real country, your implications that the Ukrainian president is gay and a fool and all of this is because of him and the US not laying down and taking it in the ass. There are 15 break-away countries of the USSR—COUNTRIES (Armenia Azerbaijan, Belarus, Estonia, Georgia, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Latvia, Lithuania, Moldova, Russia, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan, Ukraine, Uzbekistan). I'm assuming that you don't believe they should be separated from their "Elizabeth Báthory" mother some call the old Soviet Union. These other 6 countries were considered Satellite States to the Soviet Union: Czech Republic, Slovakia, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Slovenia. A Satellite State was behind the Iron Curtain and very much a part of the Soviet Union's umbrella—and still are to a very large extent. With your assessments, none of the independent break-away countries should be separated from the USSR (now called Russia), even though those countries are recognized to be independent, and according to your assessments, Hungary should remain a satellite state to the kleptocracy—hell, why not? Hungary is a kleptocracy, but who cares about such subtleties. By the way, as far as I know, now I may be wrong on this, but all of these countries—all 21 of them are fighting Russia in some way or another. Putin has threatened Hungary on several occasions. Original quagmire: what proof do you have that the Jewish Nazi queer (your description), stably married with kids, has provoked Putin into invading his country into this special military operation? And, if I were to attack and destroy you and your family and sodomize your wife, and declare it all for myself mine, you'd be ok with that? You said that Ukraine is not a country-you said it. How many countries recognize Ukraine as a sovereign country? You don't even know that it was HUNGARY who recognized it first. 181 of the 193 UN countries and others. If an honest person in a matter of discussion sticks to the original topics, his reasoning will be easier and more clear. If the person uses the tactics of Goebbels and the like, he may appeal to many, but he'll be doing so without merit. Your language barrier argument is FAKE! Because you should know by now that I have the means to translate or understand any message you send me, if it's not full of gobbledygook, which you seem to have a hard time avoiding. Stay focused! You cannot, because it is even you who doesn't believe yourself.

goods and money. ... You can debate with me, You can push me to Putin's side (I'm not on Putin's side anyway-but You want me to be there) . You say:- Stay focused! -this is a good, clever sentence to destroy your debate partners arguments in historical view. But without the wider view USA also made just a butchery in other countries. I don't say that Russia is good (never told that) I just say that they don't have the will to invade Europe, so THAT IS A LIE (not a fact!) of western media to make panic. I didn't see You marching on the fields of Ukraine with weapons, so your will to make me burn is FALSH. You have your thoughts about this case and I have mine. But the only person who wants to convince the other person is You, and You do it by destroy me, by offending me (as I'm a nazi!?!), and by make it impossible to run a normal conversation. You bite me in any words, You twist out my words without reading or listening (not even understanding) any sentence that I tell You. You push me on Putins side and You don't care that I'm not on that side. You just want to handle your agression in the chair on your friends who are not exactly on your side of thinking. I just say, don't do this. I like You, but if You don't care about my thinking, and it kills the conversation about this case. ☹

The rest of your assertions come largely from fake sources, biased information. I don't have time to go over all of your shit. I'd have to write volumes of books on those subjects, but hey, guess what, there are already volumes of books on the subject. I'm a communications instructor. The US has not stolen their land - should have taken the oil - as a result, US is in debt. You go around the World and throughout the beginning of time. Stole lots of materials? For example? See you can't do it. You can't provide me with concrete examples. You want me to do your homework for you, which I've done already a few times. What the hell you talkin' about "THAT IS A Lie" - can we be any less coherent? Let's go - let's go to the Ukraine today - you and me - or just me, doesn't matter. Can you get me a pass? I've already said I would go to the Mi Hazánk politician and couward. The other parts you're saying is simply hogwash. I haven't killed the conversation, you have. I've only asked you to address the topic and you can't do it by any measure. A little bit of truth (or no truth at all) to implode a conversation with the Jewish gay corrupt married - who's grandfather lost 2-3 Brothers fighting Nazis on behalf of Soviets. This conversation is dead because you killed it from the onset. I'm just asking you to provide evidence of your ORIGINAL assertions but you simply cannot do it. You know why you can't do it? Because it's filled with propaganda that is beyond the pale. I help my students with their essays all the time and I would mark your assertions with empirical evidence as low as ever. You would fail in court and you would fail in the court of opinion. Open your eyes. The Soviets (now called Russia again) invaded the Ukraine and thought that They would be welcomed with open arms, well, that proved to be a wrong assumption.

This is an example of getting someone to use reasoning and story telling. It has been months before he could do it. Now he's doing it, but his grammar isn't yet up to par. I teacch logical reasoning and am successful because the vast majority of my students reach their goals (i.e, job prospects, the passing language tests). I demand a certain level of competency before I ccan say that They can make their goals happen. Here's an example. This is my job and I'm good at it. This is a level that I'm expecting you to reach, but you don't listen very well, which is common also.

The Eger Tournament Last Week / Last Week's Eger Tournament

▲ Last weekend we had matches on Saturday and Sunday. The first day we had one match and on the second day we had two (matches – not necessary to repeat this word). We lost all the matches but this isn't the problem. The problem is how we lost these matches...

Formatted: No underline, Font color: Auto

▲ The last season was one of the best seasons of this team; we were qualified as the final four, but we lost the final game. As a consequence, we can declare that / can say that we were the second best team in the whole country, but at this tournament we could say that we were the worst team of all-time (I don't understand the last part of this statement??). One of my teammates, Dancsi, left the squad because he moved to another senior team; OK, so we lost one member, but I don't really think that a team game depends only on one member, that's why it's called a team. What has changed in our team during / after the summer is our mental state, and our determination (Is it better or worse??).

Formatted: No underline, Font color: Auto

▲ On Saturday we played one game late afternoon. After that we went to the college to put away our sports bags / equipment (??) so we can walk about and see the sites. Eger is a beautiful little city with a cozy night life and so we decided to go out into town. Our coach said that we have to come back by 23:30 and no one can drink more than one beer. Most of the squad did just that and came back as expected, as we talked about, but 6 members of the squad thought that they were special and that they are kings or pretended not to know the instructions and came back at 2:30. What happened was that they went to a party place and got drunk, which they thought was very very fucking funny... Our coach got drunk too and the climax of the story is that our coach and the 6 members were met in the city with our other coach who didn't give a shit about what had transpired and he didn't scold them... (How many coaches are we talking about?? Confusing??)

Formatted: No underline, Font color: Auto

▲ In the morning everybody was tired as hell and they still thought that they were so funny and big boys and that they spent the morning just talking and talking about the party. We lost the morning match with an 8 goal difference, I don't think I have to add any reasons why we lost... Our coach only said: If someone enjoyed the night he has to be a warrior on the court...

Formatted: No underline, Font color: Auto

▲ I don't think this was the greatest scolding because they still thought they were funny and today (on Monday) they were still talking about the party...

Formatted: No underline, Font color: Auto

▲ I'm a bit nervous (Using the word 'anxious' can be positive or negative, but the way you use the word here is confusing.) about the future and the season because I want to win and work as hard as I can, but these people are pulling me down and I can't level up...

Formatted: No underline, Font color: Auto

▲ Notes: You did an excellent job with structuring this story. You've made me nervous thinking about what you have to go through. I absolutely sympathize with you in your struggles. You still have too many structural problems grammar-wise. The grammar problems are much easier to fix than the logical format and restructuring of ideas. So, check out my corrections.

▲ Your brain is filled wih too much junk, propaganda and biases. If you want to write a thousan page thesis (research paper), you may be able to include some of what you wrote about, but if you applied logical and objective reasoning, I'm pretty positive that your end conclusions would be very significantly different. I once wrote an abstract for a lawyer who wanted to go to college in the Netherlands. His original paper was so full of crap that my paper, the one he submitted, contradicted his original ideas in diametrically opposing ways. They liked and gave him a telephone interview. The problem was that it would have taken me 2-3 years, full time to train him on the reality of the matter. Same with you. You're brave to throw wild claims that are flawed to their very cores. Even still, you won't shut your trap, study a few things, then talk about or debate the matter, if you still find a need to. You run your mouth like diarrhea gushing out of a volcano. Everyone - except Fidesz supporters (who are Nazis by definition) can smell the stench from afar. Every book you'll ever read will have supporting evidence or a narrative that supports the statements, arguments, concepts, whatever. You don't even try because your arguments are without arguments and evidence. Yes, you are a Putin supporter. That's the only point you've proven to me on this topic.

Thousand, research paper or book, they liked it, and he would have needed to keep his mouth shut until he reached a certain level (like you need to do) of comprehension of the subject matter,

There are some reasons why I don't want to get deeper in this conversation. 1. The main base of our debate (what You try to fire up times and times) is that You think that You researched both sides deeply and found that the only devil is Putin and ALL opposite participants are saints, and I am stupid as hell and not informed of my whole life about history, politics, and sociology. 2. You, my dear friend ☹- as a communications instructor- try to push down my throat tons of one sided difficult english documents and say that I don't provide You any fact, while You -as I learned by our live debates- even do not want to listen my sentences, not even understand them, not even spend a moment to think about them. As a communications instructor You grind me and make me impossible anytime based on your documents. 3. You said: " I don't have time to go over your shit". It means that your debate partner is not valid enough to reach to your imagined highness of thinking. 4. These previous 3 points give You the will to use the following rhetorical trick :You fill yourself with the books, docs, and videos that support your thoughts in a case. You send to a person some video or docs or article that represents your thoughts. If the other person is not with You in 100%, then You call him the opposite side and push him far to the end of the opposite side ("black or white world" problem). Then You bite him into the ground, make him impossible by sending as much docs videos, articles as You can (see as: overflowing information) to reach the sentence: "You have not enough facts as me, you are not valid"). Then come all the self-self-proof process that makes You feel satisfied.

These are the base that suggest me to finish this debate, or whatever it is. This is my " applied logical and objective reasoning" -as You wrote. Because I don't have time to go over your precious documents, I don't have time to translate my docs to english, and don't think that You take care even a minute to read any documents in hungarian language, or listen videos that I provide You. As I see, You care about only books and articles that support your strong trained thoughts but not care about stories from life of the other side. That's why You wouldn't even listen -not even understand- that there is an other side of the coin. I just can imagine what would You say if I tell You my story with an Iraqi dentist who said that the american soldiers so called "liberator" soldiers took off all the aluminium guard rail barriers on the highways and stole them, and they stole all the precious things in the destroyed temples, they handled the "liberated" citizens badly. This is not in your books so this is not true. (this was just an example about our conversations- don't feel that You must destroy this story with your facts) There are many little things that change someone's mind or soul. I don't think that we are the same but that's not a mistake. I think that we need to accept the other person and Orbán parlamenti kétharmada összetett számítási halmazt rejt, amely sok tényezőtől függ. A magyar választási rendszer ördögien bonyolult. A magyar választás 3 szempontból is bohózat: adózás nélküli képviselő (2004 óta állampolgárságot kaptak a magyar felmenőkkel rendelkező külföldiek, akiknek 95%-a Fideszre szavaz.), korrupt szupertöbbségi szabályok, minden párt kap állami támogatást a kormánytól, és amely egy időintervallumra korlátozódik.

Ennek következtében súlyosan függővé váltunk az orosz erőforrásoktól és oligarcháktól, viszont nagyon kevés függetlenségünk van új erőforrásokra vonatkozóan. Ez a függőség indokolatlan.
