

The Puppet Master Part 2

Does any of this sound familiar. This formula for infiltrating the system is always the same with Soros. It's the one he always uses. So I'm not asking you to believe me on conjecture, I'm asking you to learn the history of George Soros. His method is to create a Shadow Party. Form a Shadow Government everytime. And then you'll be one step closer to One World Government, and taking power. A Shadow Party is not a political party, it is..not at least in a tangible sense, it works outside the normal electoral system. In 2000, Soros funded 1/3 of the Shadow Conventions. Do you even remember these? They were run by Arianna Huffington, the president's (Obama) favorite source of news, and one of the lead organizers next to her was Jim Wallace, one of the guys who is campaigning against this program surprise, surprise. The idea was to parallel the Democratic and Republican Conventions, the Shadow Convention. Huffington said at the time, message of the Shadow Conventions at the time was „...not left or right, and the answers to these issues are not going to be found in the old ideas of the past. Clearly the Great Society solution of top-down programs has failed. Top-down programs. Instead, the answers could be found in the raw power, quoting of government appropriations.

Wow? But it was the next election cycle that truly launched the Shadow Party. In 2004, when Soros didn't mince words, he stated „this is not a normal election, these are not normal times.” I do not accept the rules imposed by others. If I did, I would not be alive today... and in periods of regime change, normal rules don't apply. One needs to adjust one's behavior to the changing circumstances.” By the 2004 election cycle, Soros' Shadow Party had shaped the Democratic message. Under Soros, the guidance of the Shadow Party infrastructure had assumed the coherent shape by early 2004. There were 7 extensively independent non-profit groups, which included MoveOn.org that would help the Democrats. Really?

Soros surrounds himself by radicals and revolutionaries. Let me go back to you with what I told you at the beginning. George Soros is creating a new structure through a shadow party. He infiltrates politics. He pulls the same playbook out every single time: Ukraine, Croatia, Yugoslavia, Georgia, and Slovakia—the same thing (he didn't mention England's sterling, and Hungary). Here it is, step by step.

Step 1.

You form a Shadow Government. He's done that. Infiltrate the target country using humanitarian aid: Open Society Institute, Or ACORN (a very corrupt group that helped Obama get elected through fraud at every level) as cover.

Step 2.

You control the airwaves. Has he done that? Fund existing radio and television outlets or start your own outlets. We've shown you this chalkboard yesterday. This is his media empire: NPR, FreePress. It's all here.

Step 3.

You destabilize the state. Would you make a case that this is being done? You cause a political or economic crisis, or you take advantage of an existing crisis.

Step 4.

Provoke an election crisis. Well, you don't really trust the outcome of an election. You wait for an election and then you cry voter fraud. This, by the way, La Raza (The Race in Spanish) and ACORN funded by OSI, George Soros' charity arm.

Step 5.

Stage massive demonstrations, and you accuse opponents of voter fraud through radio and t.v. stations that you control.

Soros has been laying the groundwork for change for the U.S. for decades, going through many of these steps one at a time, sometimes combined. Step 1, Soros has established his Open Society Institute in the U.S. Step 2, he has been trying to control the airwaves by funding media outlets, and by attacking FOX News, and they're doing it now with millions of dollars on this program and FOX. Step 3, Soros supports massive government spending which will worsen our deficit crisis, destabilize the State. This is a man who lives above the law. This is a man who is not exactly humble. In fact, he fancies himself of somewhat of a God in his own words, next...

What would possess a man to need as much power as George Soros does? Well, the title of a biography that he, himself authorized refers to him as a Messianic Billionaire. Wow. That's quite a claim, but maybe you should look into the mind of the Puppet Master, and see what's inside. "The United States should find its proper place in a New World Order. They would have to give up some of their privileges." He had been trying to re-order the world, as if he is the creator. Soros has admitted in the past he doesn't believe in God, but that is perhaps because he thinks he is.

Soros himself admits that from the time he was very young he had megalomaniacal ideas, that he had messianic fantasies, he said he felt himself as a kind of God. In Underwriting Democracy he writes: „...If truth be known, I carried some rather potent messianic fantasies with me from childhood... In The Alchemy of Finance "...I fancied myself as some kind of god... .He's even said that, now that I've made these dreams into a reality, I feel more comfortable admitting to the magnitude of my ambitions. In Soros on Soros "...I probably could not feel all of a piece if I weren't larger than life...". To The New Yorker "God in the Old Testament has a number of attributes, you know. Like invisible—I was pretty invisible. Benevolent—I was pretty benevolent. All-seeing—I tried to be all-seeing!"

Soros goes further in that he has said that he wants to be the conscience of the world. He was quoted by his biographer (name??), "Yes, I did say that and actually I stand by it. I think the World very much needs a conscience... I want my foundation network to be the conscience of the World." We're almost out of time, but there is so much more in the next two broadcasts. Make sure you DVR this program and share it with as many friends as you can.

There is a personal story in this that we need to share with you. A little over a month ago George Soros' right hand man reached out to one of the Vice Presidents, one of the Executives of this television program. He requested a meeting in public between the 2 of them. The Executive accepted Mr. Soros' invitation. The meeting began with the Soros guy saying that this program, and me, in particular, was corroding the very foundation of America, and instigating violence to boot. And that was while they were just waiting to be seated at the restaurant. While that opening salvo failed to prompt anything more than a calm rebuttal from my Executive, the Soros Executive then shifted gears, explaining that we were hurting their business, even hurting Mr. Soros himself. Then he went on to talk about a vast right wing conspiracy headed by this show, or FOX News, targeting his boss because of his support for the Democratic candidates, or maybe his position on legalizing drugs, I don't know, I have no idea.

But after my guy calmly rebutted the notion of any conspiracy, his guy, apparently out of bullets, said, then why? Why focus on George Soros if it's not that? My Executive explained to him that whenever you do a Google search on failing economies, or collapsed currencies, the name George Soros keeps popping up, usually at number one, and because he steadfastly believes in One World Government at expense of the United States Government, the United States of America. I do not.

The Soros guy dismissed his boss' role in collapsing the currencies, like the British Sterling. He said it was over-hyped, claiming they didn't really make that much off it, as people say. As far as One World Government, or globalization, well he explained, "that ship had already sailed", and if Glenn Beck doesn't recognize that, he'll just be left behind. He then looked at my executive and said, "I don't think you hear me. I don't think you understand. Glenn Beck is hurting Mr. Soros, and his business." At this point, the Soros Executive abruptly ended the meeting, but not before saying that he had a gift from Mr. Soros for me, something he wanted my Executive to give to me. He reached into his briefcase and handed him this. It said movie. A DVD, a 1957 movie made by a communist, by the way. How appropriate. It's called A Face in the Crowd, starring Andy Griffith. I watched this when MSNBC started this rumor about 2 years ago that this is who I was. It was handed to him. He wanted to make sure that it was very clear that the story accurately represented who they thought , and who Mr. Soros thought I was personally. He said, make sure you share it with Mr. Beck.

In case you're not familiar, Andy Griffith plays a drunk, a petty criminal who with the help of a radio reporter played by Marcia Neil, transforms himself into a famous national talk show host, a man of influence with the masses and politically powerful, but he is a very bad guy. Towards the end of the movie, the character Larry Lonesome Roads is revealed to be a fraud, a liar, and the movie ends with him all alone screaming insanely from the balcony of his Manhattan highrise. Marcia Neil's character is afraid he's going to jump. Mr. Soros, I'm not going to jump, I'm also not Lonesome Roads, but I appreciate your thinking of me.

Let me say again what I've repeated on this program several times. All of this can go away tomorrow, but as long as I have breath, I will use that breath to speak about what I truly believe is the truth. As I have done several times on this broadcast, and in that private-public meeting with a partner of George Soros, Mr. Soros, you're welcome to spend an hour with me. I'm sorry to hear that you repeatedly turn it down.

We have a lot more information for you tomorrow and the next day. Make sure you tell your friends to join us. All of the information on tonight's broadcast is on...tomorrow, Soros in Collapsing Currencies Internationally--What are his Plans for the Dollar, don't miss it, tomorrow. ...
